Community Volunteers

Volunteering to help the Copperopolis community maintain the things that keep us together and flowing as one common group.

DESCRIPTION

Volunteers that help Copperopolis help all of us in the community. As a very small town, we do not have the resources to clean, maintain, monitor or facilitate the community center, organic garden, event hall or other planned events without the help of our own folks that take interest. Creative Copperopolis—a 501c3 non profit mutual benefit organization— administers the work force for the tasks at hand. All tasks are community orientated and not aimed at private enterprise. Most volunteers stay within the organization for a long term relationship because of the mutual feeling of support and accomplishment gathered by the effort of community volunteering.
