DESCRIPTION

Bruce Champion has been a sound guy for many years. He has stories and experiences about sound jobs that he has done throughout the years that stacks up the do's and don'ts of live job sound reinforcement and recording. His truck has been built with live raw tracking in mind bringing real time tracking ready for editing and mixing in post production. He drives up, sets up, lays it down and drives away with everything done live down on "tape"

(although everything is digital now, us older folks still call it tape!)
